Assessment Summary

No competency-type means are available.

Visualizations

Insufficient validated data to populate this section yet.

Why: No measured competency-type means are available yet (competencies may be classified by type, but none carry a measured score).

How to populate it: Score a competency assessment whose competencies map to onto types.

What is needed: Measured per-type means in computeTypeProfile buckets.

Expected output once available: A radar of mean capability across each competency type.

Interpretation

Competency-type classification is required to render the radar.
